Print language

The {Language} field in the print dialog sets the language in which the document or report is printed. The language of the logged-in user is offered by default; choosing another language prints the same document in the chosen language, regardless of the interface language. The document data stay the same — only the field names and texts on the printout change. The field is available in the print dialogs of documents (invoice, quote, delivery note…) and reports (trial balance, account cards…).

The drop-down list offers only the languages the given printout has been translated into. A translation of a document or report into an additional language, or a language not yet offered, can be requested through a support request.
